I. Mark your first (1st) and second (2nd) choices for the following courses:

_____ CE 5: HUMAN FACTORS IN MEDICAL LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION; Geared toward the person with supervisory responsibilities, this course attempts to study personnel management in terms of interpersonal relationships. Topics covered include: employee motivation, techniques of resolving conflict situations, discussion of active listening, and the analysis of different styles of leadership. Using techniques of case study, role playing, and small group discussions, problem-solving approaches are illustrated.

_____ CE 28: MANAGEMENT OF REFERENCE SERVICES; This course is a revision of Advanced Reference Services offered in 1976. It is designed for reference and administrative librarians and emphasizes the management of reference departments as well as handling reference problems. Discussion will focus on reference policies and philosophies, relationships with users and priorities of service.

_____ CE 37: DEVELOPMENT AND OPERATION OF A HEALTH SCIENCES LIBRARY CONSORTIUM; This course is intended to introduce the uninitiated to the various intricacies of consortium life. Topics to be covered in lecture will include the pros and cons of consortium membership, methods for establishing and financing a consortium, possible programs, techniques of evaluation, and the relationship of the health sciences library consortium to other consortia and networks. Sample health sciences library cooperative agreements, both legal and informal, will be included in the syllabus.
