

Class Title: Creating Influence: Getting What You Want

Instructor: Lisa Traditi and Frank Traditi

Class description: Librarians are experts at organizing, evaluating, and disseminating information. Where we often lack confidence is in being influential within our institution. We know that what we do is indispensable; the trick is to make the powers that be believe that we are indispensable. This class, taught by a librarian and a business coach, will show you how to combine librarianship with proven business techniques and put them to work in your institution.

Date: Tuesday, October 7, 2008

Time: 8:00-3:30

Min and max attendees: Minimum – 8